

LUIS CARLOS RODRIGO PRADO

PARTNER

PROFILE

Luis Carlos Rodrigo Prado is managing partner of Rodrigo, Elias & Medrano Abogados and leads the Natural Resources practice area of the law firm. He specializes in mining law, project financing, mergers & acquisitions, and environmental matters.

Education

Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú – Lawyer (1990)
Yale University – Master in Law (1993)
Fulbright Scholarship Georgetown University – Orientation in the US Legal System (1992)
Research on International Arbitration - Ford Foundation Scholarship (1993)

Practice Areas

Mining
Corporate and Commercial
Project Finance
Mergers & Acquisitions
Environmental

Memberships

Lima Bar Association
Prospectors & Developers Association of Canada
Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation
International Bar Association

Languages

Spanish
English

He advises mining and natural resources companies in the project financing, M&A and in the negotiation of stability agreements combining his global expertise in corporate, mining and tax law.

Furthermore, he has significant experience in designing and structuring strategies for acquiring and merging companies, and is an expert in negotiating investment and stability agreements, joint venture agreements and other types of agreements related to the exploration and exploitation of natural resources.

He is a director of major mining and insurance companies and is currently a member of the Advisory Committee of the Peruvian Canadian Chamber of Commerce where he was President (2007-2012), Vice President (2000 - 2007) and member of the Board of Directors (1997-2012). In 2011 he was awarded the Gold Medallion by the Governor General of Canada.

At the International Bar Association (IBA) he is a board member of the energy, infrastructure, natural resources and environment section and co-chair of the Latin American Regional Forum. He also chaired the Mining Committee (2010-2011) and was a member of the board of directors of this organization (2005-2011).

He is currently Vice-president of the Latin American Association of Mining Lawyers since 2001.

He is a professor of energy and mining law at the Pontifical Catholic University of Peru and has been a professor at The Sturm College of Law of University of Denver. He regularly speaks at international conferences and in specialization courses in corporate, mining and M&A law.